Marshall Places Blame On Soviet In U.N. Failures

Suggests Plan To Overcome Situation Caused By Many Soviet Vetoes

U. S. POSITION ON WORLD ISSUES GIVEN

BULLETIN
FLUSHING MEADOWS, Sept. 17.—(INS)—U. S. Secretary of State George C. Marshall in a speech sharply attacking Soviet Russia called on the U. N. general assembly today for creation of a permanent 55-nation committee to assure preservation of the peace.

The American statesman enumerated his charges against Russia, concluding that in calm manner, with the thousand delegates listening in attentive silence throughout the 35 minutes that he spoke.

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Secretary of State George C. Marshall called on the United Nations general assembly today to create a permanent "stand-by" committee to take over many of the problems which Russia, by use of the veto, has kept from settlement in the security council.

Marshall, openly crossing swords with the Soviet Union in his opening speech to the assembled delegates, placed blame for failure of the Security Council to function effectively in the past year on Moscow itself.

To Break Deadlock
To break the deadlock in international affairs, Marshall proposed the creation of an "interim committee on peace and security" to sit in perpetual session.

It would be composed of a representative from each of the 55 United Nations. It would entertain "situations and disputes brought to its attention by member states." If needed, it would call special sessions of the General Assembly, thus calling in all 55 nations instead of the 11-nation Security Council.

This machinery, Marshall contended, would "strengthen the machinery for peaceful settlement and place the responsibility for such settlement broadly upon all the members of the United Nations."

This proposal was the most unexpected of a series of seven items which Marshall called on the assembly to take over.

Atmosphere Of Tension
He made them in an atmosphere of tension. Though firing the opening gun of his battle to liberalize the United Nations, Marshall spoke smoothly and calmly.

Marshall Seeking To Force Conclusion Of Three Peace Treaties

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., Sept. 17.—The forceful tactics of Secretary of State George C. Marshall in the United Nations assembly today were believed in diplomatic quarters to be aimed largely at forcing a conclusion of peace treaties for Germany, Austria and Japan.

The success or failure of such tactics was believed to lie with Soviet Foreign Secretary Vyacheslav Molotov. If he finally decides to attend the current assembly meeting, it will be interpreted by those following the situation as a sign of hope that the now stalled peace-treaty talks will go ahead.

Rests On Molotov
Thus far Molotov has given no indication of his plans. Advice to the United States delegation give no indication that he will come. But they also give no indication that he will not.

Members Of Truman's Cabinet Discuss Plan To Meet Europe's Need

By GEORGE DURNO

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Key members of President Truman's cabinet today intensified their drive to provide food and fuel for Europe this winter to stave off a communist coup which might deliver most of the continent into the political hands of Soviet Russia before spring.

State department officials hammered home urgent reports from observers abroad that "intolerable hunger and extreme cold" promises to play into the "divide and conquer" philosophy of the communists.

France and Italy are recognized as the extreme danger points in the situation.

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson called a meeting of the cabinet food committee for next Monday. This will be the first day President Truman is back at his desk after his journey to Brazil.

Halloween is not to pass unnoticed in New Castle. At the meeting of the South Side Board of Trade on Tuesday night, September 16, plans were started for an old fashioned Halloween celebration in the South Side on Thursday night, October 30.

All the trimmings of a Halloween celebration will be present. A large parade of mummers, plenty of prizes, plenty of street carnival effects, colored lights twinkling down on the fun and 40,000 people squeezing into an area that is crowded with 25,000, and enjoying it.

W. F. DeCarbo has been named general chairman of the celebration and within the next week or ten days will announce his committee chairman.

In the meantime this is notice to the kids. There'll be a Halloween parade on the South Side on Thursday night, October 30.

At a meeting of the executive committee Tuesday evening, at the New Penn Hotel, William F. DeCarbo was named general chairman of the parade event. Names of other committees and their chairmen will be announced later.

Launch Plan To Raise Band Fund

Organized Effort To Send Band To Bethlehem Game Under Way

AROUND $4,000 IS ESTIMATED NEED

Meeting in The Castleton hotel, Tuesday night, an "On to Bethlehem" committee was formed by local citizens for the purpose of raising sufficient funds to take the New Castle senior high school band to Bethlehem, Pa., on Thanksgiving Day.

Edward C. Raney was named chairman of the committee and City Treasurer B. N. Hanlon was named treasurer. The committee will be enlarged and a second meeting called for Monday night, September 22.

"Sending the band to Bethlehem along with the football team on Thanksgiving Day is a way we can partially express our appreciation of the band's efforts over the year," said Mr. Raney. "They are on hand for every game, they provide an entertainment feature for the game that adds to our pleasure when the team wins and eases our disappointment when the team loses."

Work Hard
"The band works hard back of the scenes. Every Wednesday night during football season the musicians are out on Taggart stadium practicing for a couple of hours and believe me they work. On Friday night they play at the game and during the school term they appear many times at public functions." (Continued on Page Two)

Hundreds Dead In Typhoons And Floods In Japan

Two American Soldiers Among 2,949 Casualties Already Listed In Disaster

TWO OF JAPAN'S ISLANDS STRUCK
(BULLETIN)

TOKYO, Sept. 17.—Two American soldiers who died by drowning were among 2,949 casualties listed tonight in latest reports from areas devastated by typhoons and floods that struck two of Japan's islands, Honshu and Hokkaido.

Many Americans and other allied personnel were marooned by a typhoon-precipitated deluge that swept the north and central parts of Honshu, the main Japanese island, and encroached upon the Tokyo area itself. Oncoming waters menaced the thickly-populated Katsushika and Adachi wards of Japan's capital city.

In addition to the two American fatalities, 772 Japanese dead, 2,017 missing and 158 injured were recorded by the Japanese Kyodo News Agency this evening.

The disaster approached nationwide proportions as first reports from Hokkaido revealed that the northernmost Japanese island had been struck by a typhoon similar to that which sent the Tone river into a deadly rampage on Honshu. Thus far, eight Japanese were reported dead and one missing on Hokkaido. Fifteen Japanese prefectures (Continued on Page Two)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17.—(INS)—U. S. Sen. Edward Martin (R) Pa., expressed hope today at the dedication of the "freedom train" at Philadelphia that it could be sent abroad at the conclusion of its year-long American tour.

He said the train would enable the people of other lands to "absorb the rich and great spirit of America's heritage."

Martin said the train's priceless exhibits pointed up the nation's greatness at a time when unrest was rampant.

Concrete Laying On New Highway Completed Today

Last Concrete Poured On New Three-Lane Highway To Ohio At Noon

ROAD NOT READY FOR TRAVEL YET

Last pouring of concrete on the new section of Route No. 422, just at the city line on Sampson street, took place at noon today. The new ten mile stretch of highway between New Castle and the Ohio line is finished so far as the concrete is concerned and the long talked of three-lane is nearly complete.

Not Ready For Travel

This is not to say that it is ready for travel. It is not and will not be until sometime in November. Berms must be completed, some fences must be erected, and there are many other things to do before the highway will be thrown open to the public.

"For the past several weeks we have had some difficulty with motorists who insist upon driving the new highway," said D. O. McKay, Project Manager for the S. J. Groves Company, the contractors. "We realize what a temptation it is to drive this fine new highway but it cannot be permitted. The state police have said they will cooperate with us in keeping off trespassers, but we hope such action will not be necessary. We would not want any accidents to occur before the road was opened."

Ten Miles Long

The new highway is ten miles long, and thirty-three feet wide, three lanes of eleven feet each. The engineering and the installation are of the finest and every modern development of road building has gone into it. It cuts the distance between New Castle and Yorkstown by nearly three miles and when opened it will offer motorists an air line highway to the Ohio line beyond New Bedford.

The newly poured concrete must be given time to cure, the final touches to the berms and highway must be made and sometime in November it is expected the new traffic artery will be ready for use.

But until then, it is urged that motorists resist that impulse to try out the new road.

Supreme Court Chief Justice Vinson administered the oath of office. The historic ceremony took place in the Navy Department office. Forrestal has occupied since he succeeded the late Col. Frank Knox as secretary of the navy.

Storm Smashes At Florida Coast On 80-Mile Front

Hurricane Drives On East Coast From Miami To West Palm Beach

STORM REPORTED AS VERY SEVERE (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(INS)—The U. S. Weather Bureau reported at 1 p. m. (EDT) today that all communications in hurricane-lashed southern Florida have failed and that no direct reports are available from the area.

The bureau quoted its New Orleans office as placing the center of the hurricane "very near the coast a short distance south of Palm Beach, moving westward 8 to 10 miles per hour."

MIAMI, Sept. 17.—(INS)

—Hurricane winds smashed at the Florida east coast along an 80-mile front today from Miami to West Palm Beach as the full scale tropical storm moved steadily westward at a speed of ten miles per hour.

Winds of 100 miles or more per hour struck the coast. West Palm Beach was hit by gusts up to 110 miles per hour, while in Miami the hurricane reached a velocity of approximately 100 miles per hour.

Telegrams from Miami to Palm Beach were dead. Telephone company officials feared long-line circuits from this area and sections outside the hurricane region would break at any moment.

Center 45 Miles North

Latest reports placed the center of the hurricane approximately 60 miles due east of Delray Beach, which is about 45 miles north of Miami.

Officials at the Miami hurricane center said the hurricane is "very, very severe and covered a wide area."

More than 10,000 persons have been evacuated from the low-lying grounds of the Lake Okechobee area, where 1,500 "swamp dwellers" drowned in a hurricane in 1928.

British Speed King Makes New Land Speed Mark

WENDOVER, Utah, Sept. 17. — (INS) — John Cobb, the British speed king, expressed himself as satisfied today with his new world land speed record of 394.196 miles per hour.

The veteran racer streaked his 2,600-horsepower car to the new record along Utah's Bonneville salt flats near Wendover late yesterday.

Cobb drove his specially built Railton Mobile over a measure mile faster than any human has ever before traveled on land.

On the north-south run he hit 385.645 miles per hour and streaked back on the return stretch at 403.135. The first mile run was made in 9.33 seconds and the second in 9.13 seconds, an average of better than 6.5 miles per minute.

The tall Britisher who said he does not plan to try for any more records this year, topped by twenty-five miles per hour his old mark of 368.9, set in 1939.

Cobb had hoped to average better than four hundred miles an hour in yesterday's try but a bumpy stretch of track apparently slowed his 7,700-pound racer.

LAUNCH PLAN TO RAISE BAND FUND

They get no money for their work, of course, but a little tangible appreciation upon our part now and then cannot help but show the youngsters what we all think of them.

"A careful check of the necessary expenses for the trip show that not less than $4,000 is needed. Because of the time of the year, late November, we believe the railroad train is the proper way of transporting them. The weather over the mountains at that time of year is changeable and apt to be snowy. We believe parents of the youngsters would feel more assured if they knew their boys and girls were going by train. After all, Bethlehem is about 325 miles away.

Transportation—Meals—Lodging

"Basing our estimated costs upon 120 persons, we believe $4,000 is a minimum required. In addition to the 110 members of the band there should be supervisors sent along to be sure everything is all right."

The books are open for subscriptions now. Anything from one dollar to one thousand dollars will be welcome and checks can be made out to "The Band Committee" and sent or delivered to City Treasurer B. N. Hanlon in the city hall. Checks are preferable but citizens who wish to stop in at the city treasurer's office and make a cash contribution may do so and a receipt will be given. Any contributions mailed will be better in check form.

The South Side Board of Trade met Tuesday night and contributed $25 towards the fund. The committee in charge of the fund raising would like to get the total raised quickly and thus clear the way for arrangements in Bethlehem.

75 to 100 feet across the streets. The hurricane winds smashed at the Florida coast along an 80-mile front from Miami to West Palm Beach. The storm was moving steadily westward at 10 miles per hour.

Teletype lines from Miami to Palm Beach went dead. Telephone company officials feared long lines circuits from this area and outside the hurricane region will break at any moment.

Latest reports placed the center of the hurricane 60 miles east of Delray Beach, which is about 45 miles north of Miami.

Very Severe Hurricane

Officials at Miami described the hurricane as "very, very severe and covers a wide area."

Trees were uprooted in Palm Beach, a narrow island just off the Florida east coast, when an 82-mile-an-hour gale whipped in as gusty prelude to heavier blows in the making.

Fort Lauderdale, 42 miles south of West Palm Beach and 20 miles north of Miami, reported a 100-mile an hour wind.

Throughout the threatened area, drastic precautionary measures were taken.

Streets were deserted, houses barricaded and public buildings turned into emergency shelters on a war-time "pre-invasion" scale.

Red Cross disaster headquarters near the waterfront area where approximately 1,500 persons were killed in the 1928 hurricane shivered and shook in the path of the gale.

Trees Are Felled

Trees were felled throughout Palm Beach and nearby areas. Power lines went down in a jumble of wires and shattered poles. Electric power supplies were cut off at 6 a. m. and all persons were kept in the suburbs of Palm Beach but from the streets.

Roofs were stripped from houses attempts were made to keep damage to a minimum by extensive boarding-up preparations.

Sixty-five emergency shelters were placed in operation in the Palm Beach area and all were packed.

Emergency headquarters said that an island off Fort Lauderdale was partially flooded and the roadways cut. Most of the residents had been evacuated from here and from others in the chain of islands west of Palm Beach.

'Eye' Is Awaited

C. L. Pierce, chairman of the county disaster committee, said that latest reports had indicated no loss of life thus far, but what is known as the "eye" of the hurricane had not struck the coast at this time.

Boarded-up homes, bath-tubs filled with water as an emergency measure, and public buildings converted into crowded shelters marked the preparations everywhere. In West Palm Beach and elsewhere in the path of the oncoming storm, the streets became deserted long before the first uprooted palm trees crashed as a forwarning of what is to come.

First To Feel Fury

The narrow island of Palm Beach was the first portion of the Florida mainland to feel the fury of the hurricane.

Miami battered down doors and windows and could do nothing more than wait for whatever the winds have in store for it and its thousands of evacuees seeking refuge in the city.

Special trains and buses and even farm trucks brought the evacuees from rural sections, from the state farms and from the famed Gold Coast.

The evacuees, the Red Cross reported more than 4000 were being cared for, were assigned to schools, municipal buildings, and to private homes.

Storm Center Nears

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 17.—The full force of a raging tropical hurricane smashed at the coast of lower Florida today with winds reaching a velocity of more than 110 miles an hour.

Communications with Palm Beach, Fort Lauderdale and Miami were paralyzed as the center of the screaming storm moved relentlessly closer to the south Florida coast line.

A weather bureau advisory bulletin issued at 11:15 a. m. (EST) said the storm's violent center apparently was very near the coast and only a short distance south of Palm Beach. The weather bureau said the hurricane's center was moving landward at a rate of 8 to 10 miles an hour.

most loyal and best citizens were born across the water. All of us are descendants of foreign born who immigrated to the new world. In every branch of our armed forces foreign born and their sons died wearing the American uniform in the recent war.

"If we permit bands of vigilantes to determine who may have civil liberties and who may not; who may work in peace and who shall be persecuted, the result will be exactly the opposite from what the constitution provided. We will not beat communism that way. We will feed its fires. Persecuted people will turn in bitterness from Americanism to communism. Inadvertently, we shall be building a fifth column within our gates."

"I am not talking appeasement," Martin emphasized, "I am talking for equal justice as set forth in the constitution and the bill of rights."

(provinces) were now known to have been affected by the fierce windstorms and floods.

Earlier today, with reports still incomplete, the Japanese home ministry, in a summary of Honshu casualties recorded up to that time, listed 449 Japanese dead, 1,785 missing and 142 injured in only seven prefectures of the principal island.

Two Americans Lost

To this was added the first American casualties thus far reported. U. S. Army headquarters announced that two men of the First Cavalry Division drowned in the swirling deluge which was wreaking havoc in the Tone river valley.

The two American cavalymen were driving a truckload of Japanese laborers last night when the truck hit a washed out portion of the highway in the Ojima area.

The truck sank swiftly and the water filled its cab where the Americans sat.

First Division Cavalry rescue teams recovered the body of one of their drowned comrades and were searching today for the body of the second American victim.

Names of the dead American soldiers were withheld pending notification of their nearest of kin.

Additional American and other allied personnel were marooned aboard stalled trains in the disaster region. One such train was filled with American paratroopers who were en route north to Sendai for training jumps.

Half Million Homes Hit

The U. S. Eighth Army's military government announced that a tabulation of its reports from Japanese sources showed a total of 2,208 dead or missing.

Military government authorities estimated that half a million homes were inundated by the floods in the last three days. The floods followed a typhoon which hit central Honshu island.

Waters from the raging Tone river which broke through its dikes entered the northernmost wards of the capital city this morning. Along some streets, the water was knee-deep.

Just outside Tokyo in Saitama prefecture's rich farmlands, Japanese families crowded onto the inundated fields harvesting as much as possible while the flood waters surged around.

In river-beds which the Japanese use to grow rice, wheat and potatoes, farmers waded knee-deep in mud trying to salvage as much of the valuable crops as possible.

MEMBERS OF CABINET TO DISCUSS EUROPE'S NEED

posed of the secretaries of agriculture, state, commerce and labor, has been working for months on a survey of availability of American foodstuffs for European relief this winter.

Marshall May Return

In view of the importance of the situation, Secretary of State George C. Marshall may return from the New York meeting of the United Nations general assembly. Marshall has headed cabinet insistence that emergency relief for Europe is needed before the year's end—and that only congressional action can provide it.

Should Marshall be tied up in United Nations debate, it is understood he will be represented next Monday by Acting Secretary of State Robert A. Lovett, who is fully conversant with the reports which convince the state department a special session of congress is imperative to cope with a dangerous international situation.

Members of the cabinet food committee will be in a position next week to give President Truman their facts, figures and findings to date. They will cover the domestic food picture in relation to European relief requirements.

MARSHALL SEEKING TO FORCE CONCLUSION OF 3 PEACE TREATIES

at the assembly reaches a crisis. Molotov is rumored to be on vacation in Russia, but even this has not been verified.

The world concern with the three peace treaties has been a note running through all comment on the current Russian United Nations assembly meeting.

Referred To By Marshall

It was referred to by Marshall in his Sunday night broadcast to the United Nations. It was mentioned again in the opening assembly session yesterday by President Oswaldo Aranha of Brazil. The theme was pursued further by Warren Austin, U. S. delegate to the United Nations last night.

All took the position that inability of the United Nations to function in the two years of its life was due largely to the failure of the great powers to agree on the remaining treaties.

This failure is almost unanimously attributed to Russia's unwillingness to compromise on even minor issues.

seven proposals with a reminder to the delegates that, two years after the end of the war "the fruits of peace and victory are still beyond our grasp."

"Men look anxiously toward the future," he continued, "wondering whether a new and more terrible conflict will engulf them."

"In place of peace, liberty, and economic security we find menace, repression and dire want."

U. S. Attitude Given

Then Marshall turned to the United States attitude on questions confronting the present session of the assembly. Briefly, there were:

1. Veto: The United States has come to the conclusion that the only practicable method of improving the situation is a liberalization of the voting procedure in the Security Council. It would be willing to accept "liberalization" of the unanimity rule in procedural cases or on the admission of new members.
2. Greece: The United States will submit a resolution to the assembly placing responsibility for attacks on Greece on Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia, demanding that they "cease and desist" from these activities, establishing a commission to make the findings effective, and make any other "appropriate" recommendations to the states concerned.
3. Palestine: The United States supports the recommendations of the Palestine commission for the partition of Palestine into separate Jewish and Arab states.
4. Korea: The problem of inde-

U. S. On Razor's Edge In Greece

ATHENS, Greece, Sept. 17.—With all Europe reeling toward the gravest economic crisis, this extreme eastern projection of the tragic continent may be lost sight of. The fact remains, however, that it is here in this trouble center and here alone that the USA is committed to direct intervention.

How are we doing in Greece? The answer must be: Not too well. But given the circumstances, this should surprise no one.

Time Element

First and most important is the time element. The program the American aid mission is now attempting to carry out is based on information supplied last December and January. Since then conditions inside Greece have greatly deteriorated. The guerrillas in the hills are expanding the area they control, and the economic condition has worsened.

On top of the delay of nearly six months in sending the aid mission with relief, there came another delay. This was a delay of nearly two months after the arrival of Mission Director Dwight Griswold in moving to broaden the base of the Greek government. Stubborn leaders of the Populist party on the extreme right were unwilling to share power with the Liberal party. Griswold's determination, plus the visit of Loy Henderson from the State department in Washington, finally forced the issue. But for a fortnight in the crisis, Greece had no valid government. A mystery to everyone here is why the Communists in the north did not exploit the situation and announce a free government in their area.

Cleavage Is Deep

Now, for a week Greece has had a coalition government of the two major parties under the premiership of Themistocles Sophoulis. It is not merely as though the Democrats and Republicans in the United States were to form a joint government. The cleavage is deeper, since the two major Greek parties disagree fundamentally on the form of government. The Liberals, with a base in deep Republican tradition, are opposed to a monarchy. The Populist party favors a monarchy.

Good Taste

POSTPONEMENT OF WEDDING

"The bride's family had made plans for a very elaborate church wedding and hotel reception. The invitations were engraved and a substantial deposit paid to the hotel to reserve the space for the reception. Other details had been arranged at a moderate expense. A circumstance taking place in the groom's family made a postponement of the wedding necessary, just as the invitations were to be mailed. Would good taste prescribe that the groom reimburse the bride's family for the expense incurred in these preparations?"

Answer: The bridegroom-to-be should emphatically offer to reimburse the bride's parents for the expenditure, since the postponement resulted from an occurrence in his family.

Question: When ice cream and cake are served together—not a la mode but to be eaten with the spoon or the fork?

Answer: The ice cream should be eaten with the spoon or the ice cream fork and the cake with the dessert fork.

Question: Is it permissible at a wedding in the rectory of the church for the bride, dressed in traditional white, to have two bridesmaids, in addition to her maid-of-honor?

Answer: So far as rules of etiquette are concerned, it is correct; but the decision rests with the clergyman in whose rectory the wedding will take place.

Question: Must the brides' dresses be exactly alike in a double wedding?

Answer: They need not be exactly alike as to model, but they should be alike as to length and type. This applies also to their veils.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

HUMAN TRAIT

"Is a very human trait. Truthful counseling to hate. Tell another more to earn. More he ought to try to learn. Has promotion passed him by? There must be a reason why. It may be he lacks ambition. Doesn't merit high position. Counsel true, but he'll receive it. Angriest and won't believe it."

But to tell the truth, afraid; Say that he is underpaid. Doing more than seems his share. Everyone to him unfair. All against him, none to see. Just how good a man is he. Pity him, his eyes will glisten. Happily to you he'll listen. Counsel bad, but he'll receive it. Gratefully and he'll believe it.

A New Phoenix, We Hope!

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TREAT YOUTH AS WORTHY OF RESPECT

I have many delightful memories of our family conversations when our own growing children participated, especially during their teens. It usually was at mealtime when this family conversation went on most freely and leisurely.

Through such delightful experiences with my own children, I think I have acquired some skills and appreciations which have contributed to my further enjoyment in more recent years at conversing with adolescent boys and girls in our home or in theirs.

Home With Children

As a rule, I would rather visit in a home where there is a boy or girl than in a home with no children, provided the parents will not hamper the youth's conversation. Always it is a delight to have a visit in our home by a youth who likes to talk.

Treated As Inferior

The youth, even the tot of four, senses whether the guest ignores him, treats him as an inferior person or object of curiosity; or whether this guest treats him as of his age, treats him as he himself would like to be treated.

If the guest by his demeanor, gestures, breathing, voice, questions or remarks, reveals to the youth that the guest regards him as a person worthy of respect, the young person easily senses the guest's attitude, soon warms up to him, feels comfortable and worthwhile and talks freely.

Parents Appreciate Him

But the guest alone cannot set at ease the youth and render him able to speak freely and naturally. This youth must have learned from long experience that his parents appreciate him as a person and treat him as such. If his parents are inclined to interrupt him as he engages a guest in conversation or enters the conversation among the members of the assembled group, this youth will be hampered in his feelings and expression. He may be in constant fear that he might say something he shouldn't or make a grammatical error and be corrected by a look or statement. Just from the way his parents sit or breathe he knows whether they are with him or against him.

Next time you have a guest who engages your son or daughter in conversation try to observe how you act, feel and breathe, and whether you have a betraying look on your face then. Perhaps you can sense your feelings in your face. Do you loiter back comfortably in your chair?

From Me To You

By MESECALL

When your mother patched your trousers . . . it was only a temporary measure . . . due to one or two causes . . . Either the family pocketbook was low at the time . . . or it was impossible to purchase a new pair of trousers in time to meet the need.

Pants patching is alright . . . as a temporary measure . . . And we hope that the patching job on North Mercer street between Washington and North street falls in that category. A street that carries as much traffic as this street does needs more than a patch job . . . it needs a resurfacing job . . . We hope this item is on the agenda for the next future . . . for the small patches that have been made this week won't hold up very long.

Road building in Lawrence County is at an all time high . . . but so is auto traffic . . . therefore we citizens of this county can't afford to sit back and talk for another fifteen years without getting anything done. That's about how long it took to see the dream of traffic minded people come true. We are speaking of the 422 by-pass . . . down Taylor street. In the near future there will be a bridge across the Neshannock . . . then what? Where will the traffic go . . . It's time now to complete the pattern from the proposed new bridge to the end of the near completed Youngstown Road. There are some mighty fine plans on paper that need your support . . . especially the people who would like to see this community prosper in the years to come.

To the traffic commission . . . don't feel too disappointed on being refused the right to install certain traffic lights in New Castle . . . your ideas are bearing fruit . . . the things that you have done have accomplished much . . . there is more than one way to skin a cat.

In the meantime . . . before more traffic patterns are perfected . . . it's the duty of every auto driving citizen . . . and those who aren't citizens as well . . . to drive carefully . . . observe the simple rules of courtesy and life you will find will be so much more pleasant.

Bible Thought

Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God. That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.—John 3: 5, 6.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

The morning after the "Authors' Tea" in Laconia we had intended to go right up to Poland Springs, Me., to visit the Frank Willards, who are staying there for the summer.

But we changed our itinerary. I had a bone to pick with J. D. Hartford, publisher of the Portsmouth, N. H., Herald, which I had expected to pick at the Tea.

But Mr. Hartford couldn't come over on account of an important meeting in his own town, so we decided to go to him instead.

If you read my column regularly, you may remember that I had complained that a can of Maine sardines had made me very sick.

The head of the Maine Development Commission had read that column in the Portsmouth Herald, which has quite a circulation in Maine, and had sent a terrific blast to Mr. Hartford.

The Portsmouth publisher, in turn, had written a fiery blast against me to the head of my New York syndicate and had demanded an apology.

The blast was accompanied by a shipment of Maine sardines, which my New York boss asked me to eat.

I ate them under protest, but they were so delicious that I tried a few more cans of the same brand. I have since become a professional Maine-sardine-eater.

But Mr. Hartford's letter had made me mad and I wanted to meet him in person and convince him that I was a human being after all, and eat no little children for breakfast.

When we arrived in Portsmouth I called him on the phone, and he asked me to come over to his office.

Expecting to meet an ogre, I took my wife along for protection in order that, in case of any physical violence, she might separate us.

We went into his office and found not an ogre, but one of the nicest persons we have ever encountered.

Mr. Hartford showed us through his plant, one of the most modern, most efficient and tidest newspaper plants I have ever seen.

Then we decided to go to lunch together.

So we drove over to Rittary in Maine, to Warren's famous sea food place, and I wish you could have tasted that food!

(You see, I can't keep away from writing about food.)

First, there was a clam chowder such as I have never tasted before. (Let my wife describe it if you are interested.) Then came Lobster Newburgh—and even the thought of it is so delicious that I can hardly go on writing. My mouth is watering.

After lunch we went back to the Herald office, where Mr. Hartford introduced us to all the people in the different departments.

We left almost four o'clock when we left, and I am quite sure that from now on Mr. Hartford and I are firm friends.

By the way, go to Portsmouth if you can, and then take a run along the New Hampshire coast on Highway 1A. I guarantee that you will never forget that charming old city and that lovely but too little known coastline of one of the country's most picturesque states.

The World and the Mud Puddles

THE UNIVERSAL CRAZE

The people of England have been seized with an unprecedented gambling craze. The statement is made that the wagers of the Britons will aggregate in excess of a billion dollars a year. The betting includes horse racing, dog racing, football and even the sacred game of cricket.

The British epidemic is attributed to financial depression on the part of persons whose only hope for financial ease is through the smile of Lady Luck.

U. S. Gambling Huge

In the United States the gambling industry has grown to mammoth proportions, not on adversity, but on prosperity. Race tracks in California, Florida, New York, Maryland and Kentucky take in hundreds of millions through the pari-mutuel machines; a million-dollar "pool" on a single race has ceased to be phenomenal. Pari-mutuels also lure the bettors on greyhound races. Football pools, through the sale of cards, run into high figures. Besides the legal betting, it is estimated that gambling through illegal book-making totals several billions a year.

While the Britons are trying to pull out of the hole through luck, Americans are trying to add to their financial status by the same method. It is another phase of the get-rich-quick mania which seems to be ineradicably prevalent in the human system. Experience doesn't seem to count.

Russia's political unanimity is said to be an advantage. But America's unanimity is a lot more fun.—Wichita Eagle.

Inside Washington

U. S. Strategem May Force Russia to Help
Hint AFL in 1948 May Quit Non-Partisan Policy
Senator Byrd, New Deal foe Retiring

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—When the General Assembly of the United Nations meets in mid-September, the success of a State department strategem to force Russian co-operation in world recovery will be determined.

Best-informed American diplomatic sources say that the repeated United States protests to Russia against Soviet expansionist and obstructive tactics did not just happen.

Each protest was made deliberately, and followed by another, to provide for the General Assembly a convincing record of the Kremlin's responsibility for the international turmoil and poverty which exist two years after the war's end.

Domination of the Balkans through dictatorial methods, refusal to participate or allow her satellites to participate in the Marshall Plan, obstruction of Korean independence, inspiration of the Greek rebellion, objection to increasing production in Germany have all been protested by the State department.

Also protested have been the mistreatment of American nationals and interference with the Japanese peace treaty.

These protests and the Soviets' unyielding stand have all been made public just as promptly in the hope that the record will so incriminate Generalissimo Josef Stalin that he will be forced to moderate his strategy and go along, at least part way, in helping rebuild the world.

AFL, 1948?—One of the biggest items of news on the labor front recently received little public notice.

This was a hint from AFL Secretary-Treasurer George Meany that the federation may abandon its traditional non-partisan political policy in 1948.

Since the days of the late Samuel Gompers, a quarter of a century ago, the AFL has been non-partisan politically—adhering only to the slogan of "support our friends and defeat our enemies."

For weeks and months now, AFL leaders have been blasting the daylights out of the GOP and assailing the record of the Republican Congress. In view of this, Meany's recent statement may mean that the AFL will endorse the Democratic ticket next year.

This would be sensational news. A majority of the powerful AFL executive council, ruling body of the federation, is staunchly Republican. The GOP-sters include Meany himself, John L. Lewis and William (Big Bill) Hutcheson, head of the potent Carpenters Union.

However, even Lewis has been taking the hide off the Republican party and his UMW Journal in every issue tells the miners they were let down by the recent GOP Congress. This line of attack isn't conducive to miner support of the GOP presidential candidate next year.

A BYRD IN FLIGHT—Decision of apple-checked, apple-raising Senator Harry Byrd (D), Va., to forsake the Capitol and seek peace and quiet on his Winchester acres removes a powerful New Deal foe from the Senate.

Byrd will step down at the conclusion of the third term he has spent in Congress, which will end next fall.

When Byrd leaves Washington, he undoubtedly will retain control of the powerful political organization he has built up in Virginia. His political opponents have termed the Democratic party in the Old Dominion state a "one man" party. Byrd is that one man.

Byrd will be missed in the Senate, where he is truly the watchdog of the treasury. He is absolute in his belief in economy. So ardent is he in his bent that when the Republicans took charge of Congress he was allowed to remain in control of the joint Congressional committee on economy.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

A "battle of the barns" shaped up in Europe and the United States today as a grim chapter in an uneasy world's struggle for survival.

For perhaps the first time since the war ended, it became overwhelmingly obvious that preservation of peace is destined upon food and its availability to the masses.

And it was far from certain, that the United States, with all its wealth and national resources, hold the balance of advantage in this crucial stage in world affairs.

Sharpest Warning

The sharpest warning yet heard in Washington came from Acting Secretary of Agriculture, Norris E. Dodd, who predicted collapse of "several" unnamed European governments because of the world food crisis.

His grim message coincided with indications that the upward spiral in American food prices soon will embrace commodities thus far little affected, Dodd, as well as Secretary of Commerce W. Averell Harriman, called upon the people of the United States to eat less lavishly—not only for the sake of their own pocketbooks but for the benefit of starving Europe.

Back of all this, however, is the fact that Soviet Russia has neither food shortage nor high prices—at the moment anyway. And therein lies a political and perhaps historic advantage whose importance cannot be underestimated.

Bumper Soviet Harvests

As against America's corn shortage and skyrocketing prices, Russia is enjoying bumper harvests in almost every agricultural product. Even the best-sugar fields of the Ukraine, almost destroyed by drought last year, are thriving again.

Commissars have promised Premier Stalin 108 thousand tons more sugar than his politburo demanded for the current season.

The first inklings of Russia's superabundance in the wake of war came in a politically well-timed announcement just before the Big

LARYNX

That is a hard word to say and pretty hard to spell. It means the Adam's apple or voice box.

The vocal bands or chords are stretched across it. When air is pushed up the windpipe and through the larynx, there is a squawk.

When this squawk is properly trained we have speaking and singing.

The larynx, stands a lot of hard usage, especially by preachers and the women folks.

Sometimes it gets into trouble. The first sign is usually hoarseness. Any long continued hoarseness even if slight should have medical care.

Prevention is much better than cure when it comes to the larynx.

General Kenney Warns Against U.S. Complacency

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 17.—(INS)—General George C. Kenney urged the people of the United States Tuesday to shake themselves out of their present state of complacency. The commander of the Strategic Air Command warned delegates to the first annual Air Force Association in Columbus that the country is placing a false hope of security in atomic weapons. He asserted that such weapons "will be outlawed by international agreement, that moral reasons will prevent their use in warfare," Kenney declared: "I'm afraid that we are lapsing into a state of complacency today. That we are building up a Maginot line for ourselves by saying, 'Oh, we don't have to worry for a long time yet. We are the only nation that has the atomic bomb and it will be ten or more years before any other nation could make them and be in a position to attack us.' "Nothing could be more dangerous to our national safety than this head-in-the-sand attitude." Echoing the pleas of other speakers at the AFA conclave, the Strategic Air Command chief called for an air power "strong enough to deter any possible enemy from attacking us." He added: "The crook does not try to rob a bank that is adequately guarded." The English language is spoken by more than 270,000,000 people, of which more than half are Americans.

Court House Registry Office Open For Voters

Registration To Continue Until September 29 For November Election

OTHER HAPPENINGS ON COURT HOUSE HILL

Registration is on again. A. Lewis Conn, chief clerk for the Permanent Registration Bureau said today that the books are open again for registration but that the registration period will close on September 29. This means that for two weeks voters who are not registered can qualify for the November election. After September 29 they will sit the election out. The office is open from eight a. m. to four p. m. every business day save Saturday when it closes at noon.

NO CONTEST, APPARENTLY
Further investigation of the local option election in North Sewickley township seems to indicate that the voters of the second precinct of the second ward of Ellwood City were not entitled to vote on the question, even though they are a part of North Sewickley township for some purposes.

The voters of the second precinct, second ward vote on bond and school offices. This means they do not vote on township officers. The local option election was a township affair and thus the voters in the second ward were not entitled to a vote. Chief Clerk to the Election Board W. A. Eakin stated.

MRS. CONTI HURT
Mrs. Mary Conti, court interpreter for the courts of Lawrence county is confined to her home with a broken arm. On Sunday Mrs. Conti was walking down a pair of steps when she stumbled, breaking her arm. She is the oldest employee on court house hill in point of service, having started her work in 1900. Many of the present employees on the hill were not even born then.

FINISH CITY RETURNS
The official return board seems to be wading through its work of making the official count of the ballots cast on Tuesday, September 9. The board has finished the City of New Castle and Tuesday afternoon started upon the county vote. A check of the second precinct of the fifth ward shows that D. O. Davies write-in vote on the Democratic ticket for a council nomination was in error. The board had credited him with 121 Democratic votes, the same as his Republican total. It was a clerical error, the work sheets showing that he received but one write-in vote. It appears now that former Mayor Charles E. McGrath has won the second Democratic nomination for city council.

Lions Hear Major Smith Of Air Corps
Olmsted Field Officer Tells Club About What New Air Corps Is Doing In Talk Tuesday

Major Charles Smith, of the U. S. Army Air Corps, stationed at Olmsted Field, Middletown, Pa., was the speaker at the Tuesday noon luncheon meeting of New Castle Lions Club.

Major Smith told of some of the things which the new air corps is doing, particularly in the use of guided missiles, and in intercepting such missiles which an enemy force might use.

He also spoke about the facilities which are in the hands of the air corps, both in personnel and material, while civilian consultants are also readily available.

Men who enlist in the Reserves receive two weeks of intensive training, which keeps them on their toes for future emergencies.

He concluded his talk with a splendid discourse on Lionism. Major Smith having been a district governor in recent years, and has been active in Lions work in Pennsylvania. He was flown here by Lt. K. C. Holmes, who is stationed at Olmsted Field.

Visitors included K. Q. Craft, new local Mercury and Lincoln dealer, and Edward Bush, son of Lion Harvey B. Bush, Republican nominee for county commissioner.

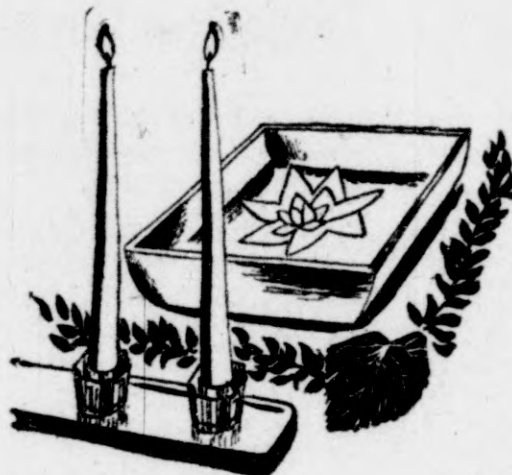

Take Licenses From Seven Drivers
Six county motorists drew revocations and one was given a suspension during the week ending Sept. 5, it was announced today by the Bureau of Highway Safety.

All the drivers given revocations were arrested for operating a vehicle while intoxicated, while the other motorist failed to maintain proof of financial responsibility. During the period the Bureau withdrew the cards of 348 drivers. Forty-four were revoked and 304 suspended. Operating privileges were restored to 467.

Discuss Reciprocal Trade Law Revision

Republican Policy Makers Understood To Be Considering Some Changes

By RAYMOND WILCOVE (N. S. staff correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Republican policy makers were disclosed today to be discussing a revision of the reciprocal trade law which would reduce President Truman's tariff powers.

If the chief executive refused to accept the revision, the Reciprocal Trade Act would be permitted to lapse June 21.

The GOP chiefs are convinced that a Republican administration will take over in Jan. 1949 and in the event the act lapsed, their program would be to restore the law then, rewritten in such a form as to give Congress a greater check over tariffs.

They are certain that Congress would not want to go back to the system in vogue before the reciprocal trade program was instituted by President Roosevelt when the House and Senate relinquished their task of writing the actual tariffs. Under existing law, the President is permitted to reduce or increase tariffs 50 percent.

Pilot's Mistake Is

Blamed For Plane

Disaster Last May

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(INS)—The Civil Aeronautics Board declared today that the pilot of a United Air Lines plane which crashed at LaGuardia field, New York, last May 29, killing 43 persons, attempted to take off with the plane's controls locked.

The board reported that the tragic accident was caused by the fact that the "gust lock" on the DC-4 Mainliner had not been unlocked prior to the takeoff.

Of the 48 occupants of the Cleveland-bound aircraft, 43 were killed instantly, four were injured seriously, and the pilot, Capt. Benton Baldwin escaped with minor injuries.

The CAB report said that because Baldwin had not released the gust lock, he was unable to actuate the controls. This, the report stated, resulted in his "decision to discontinue the takeoff at a point too far down the runway to permit stopping within the airport's boundaries."

The gust lock, the report explained, is a mechanism which holds all surface controls, including ailerons, elevators and rudder, in a neutral position when the plane is on the ground.

LaGuardia Has Sudden Collapse

Ex-Mayor Of New York Reported In Critical Condition At Riverdale Home

RIVERDALE, N. Y., Sept. 17.—(INS)—Former Mayor Fiorella H. LaGuardia of New York was reported in a critical condition in his Riverdale home at 5 a. m. today after a sudden collapse shortly before midnight.

His physician, Dr. George Baehr, reported LaGuardia in a deep stupor and in too critical condition to be moved to Mt. Sinai Hospital.

Dr. Baehr disclosed that LaGuardia has been failing for the past week.

Underwent Operation
The 64-year-old "Mayor," as he liked to be called, underwent an operation for a pancreas condition on June 18 at Mt. Sinai hospital. LaGuardia had not been able to make a complete recovery and for the past two weeks he had been losing weight rapidly.

However, the hard-hitting politician continued with his writing each day and was contemplating other activities.

LaGuardia first rose to power as mayor under the little heralded banner of the Fusion Party in 1934, beating out the regular party organizations. He was re-elected to two more terms, serving until 1945, when he chose not to run again.

He was a bomber pilot in the First World War and served seven bustling terms in Congress.

and runs from conservative to extreme reactionary. Whether this odd team can pull together remains to be seen.

The real question is whether the honest amnesty offered by 86-year-old Sophoulis will persuade the rebels to surrender their arms and come out of the hills. Sophoulis' reputation for integrity and republicanism is counted on to attract thousands not irrevocably committed to communism.

Many Skeptical

Most Americans with a long background in Greece are skeptical of the outcome. So are Greeks of genuine democratic persuasion who believe that the former government alienated people by the arrest and exile of thousands who were not Communists at all but republicans with a hatred of oppression and the symbols of oppression.

On the other hand, Archbishop Damaskinos, perhaps the wisest man in the country, is enthusiastically heartened by the coalition which, behind the scenes, he helped to shape. Damaskinos, who was regent following the revolution of 1944, is one of the most extraorinary figures of our time. He glows with hope at the prospect of peace from the new government.

A straw in the wind is the offer of the rebels on the island of Crete to surrender under the terms of the amnesty. It is recognized, however, that the Cretan rebels are a less fierce breed than those in Macedonia.

Potent Fact
A potent fact is that the whole budget of the American mission is being recast, with the probability that the military will get a greater share than originally contemplated. This seems a clear sign of an intention to concentrate on a more efficient and possibly even a larger army. Certainly security is the first essential. But whether it can be obtained with the present Greek army is doubtful.

The army of 138,000 is so organized that only 30,000 to 40,000 can be deployed against the guerrillas at any one time. The training of the army by the British in the old tradition introduced rigidities and formalities that are a handicap in mountain warfare.

There are still several thousand British troops in Greece, most of them around Salonika. Greeks in Athens tremble at the prospect of their removal. They believe it would mean immediate intensification of material and possibly even troops from across the border.

Hope British Remain

Americans I have talked to here hope the British troops can be kept on. Yet Griswold has recommended that an American occupation force come in if the British, in an economy move, do pull their troops out.

There should be no illusions about the difficulties an American force would meet. The northern border is 700 miles in length, through wild, mountainous country. The pressure would be great to get the Americans to seal this border as essential to the security of the nation.

These are the grim realities of our uncomfortable position on the razor's edge at a point where east and west meet.

Weak, Watery Blood Blamed for Making Men and Women Look and Feel Older THAN THEIR YEARS

How do you feel at the end of a day? Is that old time pep and drive lacking? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Thousands now regaining glowing good looks and vitality through the release of vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red blood-cells pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count means that in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a general run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Manufacturer Heard Tuesday Evening At Laymen's Crusade

James E. Colville Of New York City, Crusade Director, Will Speak This Evening

"Power" was the subject chosen Tuesday evening, by Russell T. Howe, engineer of the Drains and Windex Company of Cincinnati, Ohio, as he spoke before the Laymen's Crusade audience in the First Methodist church, North Jefferson at North street.

Using the Gospel of John chapter 10 and verse 10, "I am come that they have life," as the basis of his timely address, the speaker through the means of other Scripture verses found in the New Testament compared various kinds of power. The fact was driven to the minds of his listeners, that the power in life the average individual needs come directly from Christ, who should motivate our thoughts and actions daily.

The musical portion of the evening program was in charge of James E. Colville, Crusade Director, who introduced the participants. The invocation and Scripture lesson was given by Rev. H. H. Grove, pastor of the Emmanuel Evangelical church. Two selections were sung by the talented Youth for Christ ensemble directed by Miss Mary Aiken. Preceding the address of the evening, Mr. Colville was heard in a solo number.

Director To Speak
In place of H. E. Aveay, who was to speak this evening, in the church at 7:45 o'clock, Mr. Colville will be the layman speaking. Mr. Aveay took ill and was unable to appear. The men's chorus will be another feature of the service tonight with other visiting singers being heard.

Thursday evening, Blair A. Quick, field secretary of the Christian Business Men's Committee International, from Moline, Ill., will be heard. Mr. Quick was instrumental in organizing the local C.B.M.C. work.

A large group of men will be in attendance Friday evening at the men's dinner meeting at The Cathedral at 6 o'clock. An outstanding program will be presented. The Crusade will close next Sunday, with Leon Sullivan, investment broker of Philadelphia as the final speaker.

Now, unless all signs are misleading, Russia is in a position to afford massive food relief to governments and peoples that are wavering between western democracy and Soviet totalitarianism.

To a hungry man, any bait in the form of calories is tempting indeed. The United States Government seems determined upon measures to cast a well-weighted line into the waters lest the lake be drained before it is too late.

Medical Society Offers PG Study To Rural Doctors

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—(INS)—A program of medical training, designed to bring advantages of post-graduate study to rural physicians unable to spare time to get to medical centers, was announced Tuesday by the Pennsylvania Medical Society.

The plan, announced at the 97th annual session of the organization, is to conduct a series of lectures in six Pennsylvania cities at regular intervals. Teams of medical school faculty members will describe advancements in medical practice, surgical techniques, and methods of treatment generally.

The lectures, to extend over a period of three years, will serve as refresher courses for many rural physicians whose practice prevents them from attending courses at medical schools or clinics.

Schedules Announced
The schedule for the first of the lectures was announced as:
October 7, Johnstown, Cone-maugh Valley Memorial hospital;
October 9, Harrisburg, Academy of Medicine; Oil City, Arlington hotel;
Williamsport, Williamsport hospital;
October 14, Wilkes-Barre, Wilkes-Barre General hospital.

Under the present schedule, the lectures will be held weekly into November, and then will be suspended until next April.

Medical schools cooperating with the state society in the program—believed to be the first of its kind in the United States—are:
University of Pittsburgh, University of Pennsylvania, Temple University, Jefferson Medical college, Hahnemann Medical college, and Women's Medical college of Pennsylvania.

The convention got under way today with a number of reports being read, chief among them a report by Dr. Shields Warren, of Harvard, on the after-effects of the atomic bomb blast at Hiroshima.

High Employment In State Rests On New Industries

HARRISBURG, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Pennsylvania was faced Tuesday with a need for continuing its battle for new industries to assure continued high employment.

State Commerce Secretary Orus J. Matthews told members of the Harrisburg quota club that Pennsylvania women must play a prominent role in the future expansion of the Commonwealth's economic empire.

"In this critical post war period of the Commonwealth's history, no Pennsylvanian can safely afford to ignore the seriousness of the situation with which we are confronted," he said.

"Everyone who is concerned about maintaining the Commonwealth's position of leadership must recognize that now, and in the future, there is a tremendous amount of work to be done to preserve Pennsylvania's prestige and keep it firmly entrenched in the post war world."

Must Move Forward
"Like any individual, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania must move forward or stagnate. It must continue to progress, grow and expand with the changing world left in the wake of the disastrous Second World War," Matthews asserted.

"To fulfill its new destinies Pennsylvania needs new industries to supplement and maintain the variety of its current production. Its future depends upon getting them, and upon expansion of existing industries, large and small. Only by this means can Pennsylvania's ten million citizens continue to enjoy the high living standard to which they are accustomed, and to maintain the year-in, year-out total employment of the Commonwealth at a comfortable level."

Pleads Guilty To Taking State Aid While Employed

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Mrs. Martha Henderson, 48, mother of five children, Tuesday pleaded guilty to accepting $507 from the State Public Assistance while a state liquor store clerk and was sentenced to three months in jail.

State agents testified Mrs. Henderson, also did part time domestic work in Pittsburgh during the same period. The Liquor Board discovered the situation after she had been earning about $57 every two weeks, it was testified.

Rebuking the woman, Judge Egan said: "I never had any sympathy for people who come here for cheating and chiseling the state. They deserve no consideration and all of them should be jailed. I am going to send you to jail for three months."

During World War I Russians ate grass, leaves and bark of trees during food shortage.

Monkey Victor Over Porcupine

BALTIMORE, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Charley, the monkey, is still the boss of the Baltimore zoo.

He retains the title today by virtue of his surprising victory over Wilton, the porcupine who didn't quite live up to the expectations of zoo officials. In fact, Wilton just didn't live.

Charley, the bad actor of the zoo's monkey colony who had beaten up several monkeys, was placed in a cage with Wilton a few days ago to get disciplined.

But, it didn't work. Zoo officials found Wilton dead today and Charley still jumping around although slightly handicapped by a snoutful of porcupine quills.

After studying the evidence, zoo officials concluded that Wilton ran out of quills after pouring scores of them into Charley. With his quills gone, the porcupine apparently was easy prey for the monkey.

Charley is in a cage alone today and he's still king of the Baltimore zoo.

Susan Warner, American author, was known under the pen name of "Elizabeth Wetherell." Her first novel, written for girls, was "The Wide, Wide World," which won much popularity and was translated into French, Italian, Russian, Swedish and Spanish. Next to "Uncle Tom's Cabin" it was perhaps the most widely circulated story of American authorship. Miss Warner was born in New York in 1819, and died in 1885.

The Quartermaster Corps reported that more than 600,000,000 pounds of soaps and other detergents were used by the U. S. Army in one year during World War II.

Aircraft Being Removed From Hurricane Zone

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(INS)—The navy said today that it has moved 180 aircraft from the District of Columbia area to Harrisburg, Pa., and Buffalo, N. Y., as a "hurricane precautionary measure."

Navy officials explained that although there was no immediate threat to the Middle Atlantic region, the movement was ordered because a cold front moving in from the west is expected to make flying conditions difficult during the next few days.

The Naval Air Station at Anacostia was virtually cleared of planes.

The Army Air Forces said no such evacuation of its planes from the Washington area was contemplated. However, all air force planes from fields in Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, and as far north as Pope Field, N. C., and Langley Field, Va., have been dispatched to inland airports.

Stassen Slated For Pittsburgh Speech

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and possible GOP candidate for President, will speak in Pittsburgh, Oct. 24 at the opening of the "Americans Unite" campaign in Pennsylvania.

Frank O. Hilton, state commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, also is scheduled to speak on the same program. The meeting is sponsored by the VFW.

CORRECT NUMBER 7690

In an advertisement carried in the News Tuesday night it was said that the telephone number of the Metropolitan Concert Guild is 7691 and 7692. This was a slight error. The correct number is 7690.

Twenty years ago a military plane could be developed from scratch for $15-$20,000. Today a new combat plane will cost from seven to 10 million.

She is survived by her husband, John Pulcini, and the following children: Vincent, Carl, Pasqual, Eli, Aaron, Louis, Leah, Madoline, Diana and Dorothy, all at home; three brothers, Pasquale Contestabile of St. Louis, Mo.; Anthony Contestabile, Freedom, and Christopher Contestabile, Youngstown, and a sister, Miss Bianca Contestabile of St. Louis.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the First Christian church of Beaver Falls, with interment in Beaver Falls cemetery.

Aranha Named
U. N. PresidentPro-American Delegate Is Winner In Selection Of
New Head Of U. N.

OSWALDO ARANHA

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y., Sept. 17.—(INS)—Battlelines already were drawn to a certain extent in the United Nations General Assembly in the spirited election of Oswaldo Aranha of Brazil as assembly president and Foreign Minister Joseph Bech of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg as chairman of the pivotal political and security committee on Tuesday afternoon.

The fifty-five member political and security committee is the decisive policy-shaper of explosive problems like Greece, the veto and U.N. memberships. It will also tackle Palestine if the proposed group is not formed.

Bech's election to the post held by Dimitri Manuilsky of the Ukraine last year was a severe blow to the Soviet Union and a striking advantage to the United States, which holds the economic fate of the grand duchy in its hand.

The choice of Aranha placed in the presidency a pro-American delegate supported by most of the Latin-American countries.

The only worthwhile post drawn by a Soviet satellite was the chairmanship of the largely innocuous social, humanitarian and cultural committee. It went to Oscar Lange of Poland after his nomination by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Sees No Place For Socialized Medicine In U.S.

State Medical Society Head Speaks
Against Plan At Annual Meeting

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—(INS)—There is no place in the American way of life for socialized medicine, Dr. Elmer Hess, of Erie, new president of the Pennsylvania Medical Society, believes.

Dr. Hess, who succeeded Dr. Howard K. Ketry, of Harrisburg, told delegates at the 97th annual meeting of the organization in Pittsburgh last night.

"We do not wish to see the things for which we have worked and built by a lifetime of endeavor smashed because of the radical political views inspired by foreign ideologies and demanded by an organized minority."

Best Service
"Call this selfish, if you will, but it is my firm conviction that a free and unregulated medical profession will give to the public the best possible quality of medical service."

Dr. Hess added: "Medicine has been forced to lead the struggle against Communism, and those of us who have been in the center of this struggle are not seeking glory. We are trying to protect the rights and privileges of every doctor."

He told the convention the enemies of medicine are the enemies of the American form of government, and added:

"I denounce with all my heart and soul these individuals and those organizations which would regiment the American people."

Charge Inflated Labor Costs Cause Rise In Prices

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Agriculture commissioners of five states charged today that false propaganda "emanating from Washington bureaucrats and professional politicians has given the public a distorted picture of the real conditions which brought about price rises."

A joint statement issued by Commissioners J. E. MacDonald, Texas; Tom Linder, Georgia; Math Dahl, North Dakota; R. A. Trotter, Minnesota, and I. M. Walker, Jr., Virginia, declared:

"Inflated labor costs are the largest single item in higher living expenses."

"While the CIO and their spokesmen in government are crying for restoration of food rationing and price controls, they are also demanding increased wages, which push commodity prices even higher."

New Sewer Being Constructed

Continental Construction company is excavating in Cherry street for the Seventh ward sanitary sewer, designed as the first unit of a program for sanitary sewer relief.

The excavation at this point is about 10 feet deep, in which will be laid a 36-inch in diameter pipe. There is, at present, a 32x43 inch, egg-shaped brick sewer connecting it with the new sewer which will run to the city disposal plant.

When completed the new sewer will extend from the Pennsylvania underpass, beneath the B. & O. R. R. bridge to a point, approximately 100 feet north of Mahoning avenue viaduct. The sewer, which will have pipe in diameter, 30, 36 and 48 inches, is approximately 7,100 feet in length and is designed to relieve the flow from the uptown section. It extends along the west bank of the Shenango river.

'LONELY HEART' REQUEST

URBANA, Ill.—(INS)—Mayor George J. Babo received a suggestion recently in a letter from "a lonely heart" on how to make residents of Urbana happy. The letter said: "If you want your town to be happy why don't you start a lonely hearts club. There are so many in town." The mayor brought the letter to the attention of the city council. Action is pending on a recommendation from John O. Rising, the organization's only bachelor.

Senator Taft Continues His Tour Of West

By WILLIAM THEIS

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

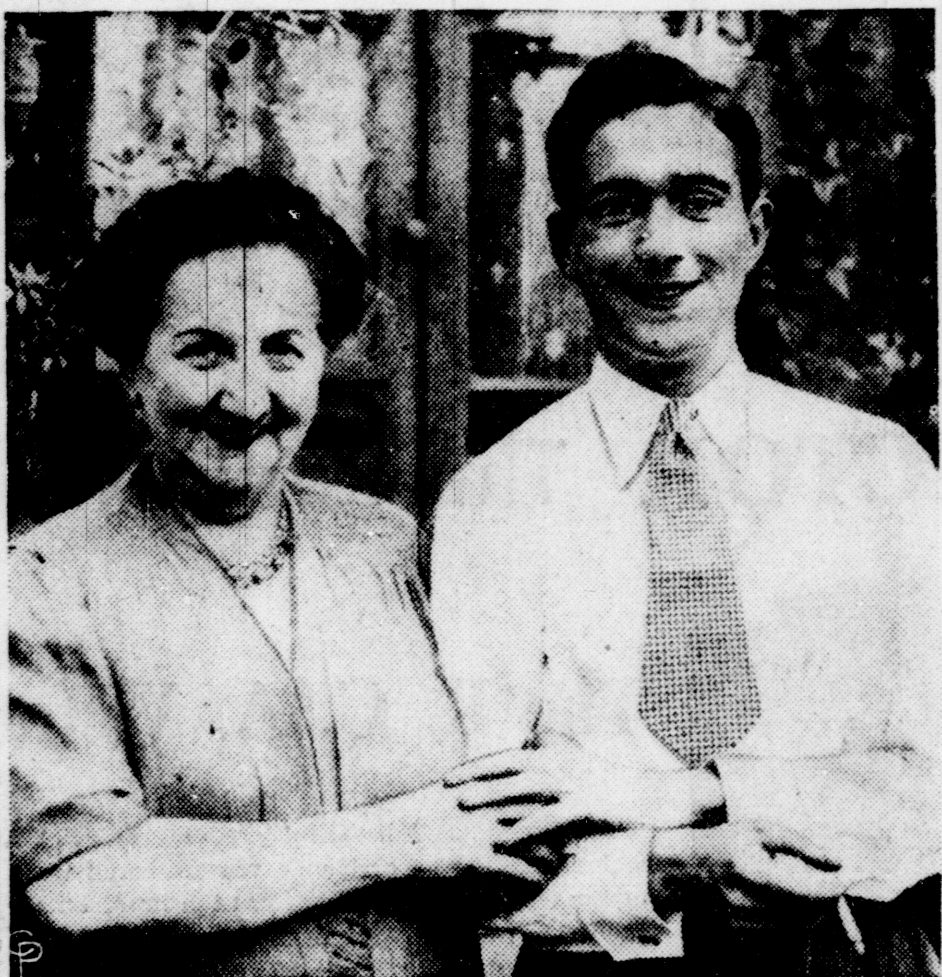

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R) of Ohio set out today on a first-hand inspection of western reclamation projects which provided one of the biggest political headaches for the GOP leadership in the first session of the 80th Congress.

Taft carried his unofficial Presidential stumping tour to San Diego and the "Big Dam" area of California and Nevada after denouncing President Truman at a labor-picketed Los Angeles rally for removing price controls "too soon."

Chanting, booing union pickets gave the GOP Senate leader the third "anti-Taft" demonstration of his western trip at a night meeting where he was introduced as one to whom "America might well entrust her destiny" in 1948.

Leaving Los Angeles by air today, the Senator's itinerary carried him to Boulder City, where he will spend two days inspecting such reclamation works as Hoover, Parker and Imperial Dams. He returns to Los Angeles Thursday, entraining then for San Francisco for a major speech on prices.

Radio And Home Appliance Show Now At Haney's

Large Crowds Gather To See Displays And Exhibits Of Appliances And Products

This week, New Castle is viewing the largest Radio and Home Appliance Show in its history at the Haney Furniture Company.

Since Monday noon a record crowd has gathered daily to see displays and exhibits on the newest in Electronic radio and appliance products and equipment. One of the main attractions has been the WKST AM, FM Control Board Console, soon to be installed for WKST's transmission of FM. Along with the Console, a new Teletype, similar to that used in the WKST studios is drawing large groups anxious to read the news bulletins as they appear.

Local Products

Two local products are prominently displayed: the Lester Betsy Ross Piano Sound Board, manufactured by the National Radiator

Company of New Castle, and Castle Roofing Company's Precipitator. The Precipitator is a heating unit which electronically removes dust and pollen from the air.

Further exhibits include the Westinghouse "Better Living Through Better Wiring" display, RCA Victor's Electronic Exhibit (a device capable of measuring the ear's sensitivity), and the RCA Tube Display showing radio tubes from as small as a child's thumb to one tube weighing 275 pounds.

In the Appliance Basement at Haney's, demonstrations are given regularly on Bendix and Thor home laundry appliances, the Tappan 1948 Automatic Gas Range, Frigidaire's Electric Range, and the Westinghouse Roaster.

One of the high-points of interest in the Appliance Show is the awarding of a gold plated replica of the one millionth Bendix Home Laundry. The Bendix door prize will be awarded later in the week.

The new 1948 radios, representing many nationally known manufacturers are displayed. These radios have drawn large numbers of interested persons due to the unusual selection of models represented. Ordinarily such complete lines of radios cannot be carried by dealers due to space limitations, though during the show all models will be floor space, and will be plugged in for immediate tuning.

Haney's brings the Radio and Appliance Show to New Castle as a preview into the near future of modern electrical living. Its purpose is to acquaint the public with the newest in appliance and radio progress.

The public is invited to attend all this week, day and night. During the show only, Haney's will remain open every evening until nine.

Removing Debris At Ruins Of Fire

Removal of damaged foodstuffs and debris from the Creasey company fire got under way yesterday following adoption of a resolution submitted by Health Director D. O. Davies calling for immediate removal.

A steam shovel was put to work excavating stuff in the rear of the building, which consisted of canned coffee. Firemen were on the job also.

This morning two dump trucks were kept busy hauling the damaged foodstuffs and debris to a dump, according to city officials.

Presbytery Plans Installation For N. Bedford Pastor

Rev. W. J. Engle, Pastor Of Enon Presbyterian Church, Tenders Resignation

Sharpsville Presbyterian church was host to members of Shenango Presbytery Tuesday, when ministers, elders, and lay delegates convened with Moderator Rev. W. S. Blair of Sharpsville in charge of the day long sessions.

Most outstanding in the matters taken up by the Presbytery, was the setting up of a program of installation for Rev. Charles Alfred Underwood formerly of Lancaster, Pa., and new pastor of the Hopewell Presbyterian church of New Bedford.

Tuesday evening, September 30, has been established as the night for the installation to take place. The service will open at 8 o'clock, with Rev. W. S. Blair, of Sharpsville serving as moderator.

Rev. Charles E. Lamale, will charge the pastor, while Rev. S. A. Creighton will charge the congregation. Rev. H. D. Talbot, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Youngstown, a personal friend of Rev. Underwood's will deliver the evening sermon.

Rev. Underwood came to the Hopewell church after concluding a successful twelve and a half years' ministry at the Memorial Presbyterian church of Lancaster.

Pastor Resigns
Rev. W. J. Engle, pastor of the Enon Valley Presbyterian church, submitted his resignation to Presbytery with illness given as the reason for relinquishing his pastoral duties. The resignation was accepted and Rev. Robert Bell, of Ellwood City, was named as stated supply until a successor can be named to Rev. Engle.

Rev. W. S. Blair, who was presiding moderator, was named moderator for another term by the ministers.

During the sessions, Butler Henon, of Wampum, gave a very inspirational report of the Synod that concluded earlier this year at Chambersburg, Pa.

A good report on the New Life movement was given by Rev. Seth Morrow with Rev. Blair preaching the sermon to Presbytery. Discussion of the new Presbyterian Life magazine ensued, with favorable comment received from all present.

During the noon recess the women of the Sharpsville church served a delicious dinner to the Presbytery delegates. No church was named for the next session of the churchmen.

American Troops Defy Yugoslav Ultimatum Today

(BULLETIN) TRIESTE, Sept. 17. — (INS)— American troops again defied a Yugoslav ultimatum today that a U. S. outpost near Trieste be withdrawn within one hour.

At noon, a Yugoslav officer and some of Marshal Tito's hard-bitten troops appeared before American roadpost No. 8 near Sesana, 10 miles northeast of the free city of Trieste. The officer demanded that the handful of Americans manning the post be withdrawn 300 yards behind the present provisional boundary.

Declaring they wanted to advance to what they called the "just boundary," the Yugoslavs warned they would return at 1 p. m. to move in.

An allied spokesman told newsmen later this afternoon that the demand has been refused, since all disputes concerning the provisional boundaries are to be taken up thru diplomatic channels.

Up until mid-afternoon, the Yugoslav forces had not made their threatened advance.

This afternoon's incident followed yesterday's pre-dawn "clash" wherein a mere dozen American troops faced down 2,000 of Tito's troops as they sought to by-pass outpost No. 115, south of Gorizia, and march into Trieste during the peace-treaty shifting of borders. In the earlier incident, the Yanks fired a warning burst of machine gun fire and brought up two tanks, leading the Yugoslavs to withdraw.

Losses by American farmers because of weeds are estimated at more than $3,000,000,000 a year.

Governor Plans New Recreation Centers In State

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff was determined today to develop recreational areas near Pennsylvania's metropolitan centers as part of the state's battle to retain industrial might.

In an address to a meeting of the Allegheny conference of the Pittsburgh Regional Planning Association last night, the governor emphasized that while the program initially affected Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Altoona and Johnstown, it would ultimately touch all business centers.

Extend Turnpike
Extension of the Pennsylvania turnpike to Ohio and New Jersey borders would be included in the program, Duff said.

He cited what he called "conspicuously important reasons" for the program and said the state would use its full civil and criminal authority to prevent any industry or community from interfering with plans.

"In the first place," Governor Duff declared, "it is out of the great metropolitan areas of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh that the commonwealth collects the great bulk of the taxes upon which the state government is sustained."

Seek To Entice Industry
"In the second place," he asserted, "it is in these areas that the greatest proportion of our industrial establishments are located."

"Today, as never before, other states are attempting to entice industry away from Pennsylvania and are offering many attractive inducements," he reported, "and elsewhere, it is imperative that industry in our metropolitan areas we give our best attention to making healthful and attractive all the areas where our industry is located."

"The commonwealth is intensely interested in this program and I am determined to leave nothing undone that will aid in making the whole plan effective," the governor declared.

He emphasized that the commonwealth would use its full civil and criminal authority to prevent any industry or community from interfering with the program.

Meatless Days Loom In Nation

Congressional Probe On Rising Food Costs Opens In Washington

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Meatless days loomed today for three of the nation's major cities as a congressional investigation opened in Washington on rapidly rising food costs.

New York, Chicago and Washington took the initiative in calling on restaurants and housewives to institute two meatless days a week to combat the up-surge in food prices.

In Washington, the District of Columbia commissioners urged that all residents voluntarily refrain from eating meat "two days a week."

The request brought the report from the Washington Restaurant Association that such a plan did not work during the war and would not prove successful now.

To Discuss Program
Chicago Mayor Martin H. Kenney said that he would call a meeting of a representative group of businessmen within a few days to work out a food program.

George Dressler, executive secretary of the National Association of Retail Meat Dealers, vigorously opposed Kenney's proposal.

Dressler said that meat supplies were not plentiful enough to warrant meatless days and advocated greater farm production.

In New York City, the Restaurant and Liquor Dealers Association asked 12,000 members to cooperate with Mayor William O'Dwyer's suggestion of two meatless days a week. The Society of Restauranters also promised its cooperation.

The Hotel Association, however, opposed meatless days but some members suggested a 40 per cent voluntary reduction in meat consumption spread over the week.

Dissolution Of Philadelphia Co. Is Called For

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17.—(INS)—The Public Utilities division of the securities and exchange commission today called for dissolution of the Philadelphia Co., $370,000,000 Pittsburgh Holding Company.

The Public Utilities division termed the company an "unnecessary and costly corporate complexity."

A brief filed with the SEC by division attorneys said the 63-year-old holding company "performs no useful function whatsoever" and "its continued existence is detrimental to the security of holders and consumer."

The brief culminates nearly five months of testimony in SEC action against the Philadelphia Co. under the Holding Company act.

A spokesman for the Philadelphia Co. charged at the Pittsburgh headquarters that it had been denied "due process of law" and added it would take the issue to court.

Corporate simplification proceedings were instituted against the company last Dec. 5 by the SEC which ordered it to show cause why it should not liquidate and dissolve unless it elected to do business as a Gas Utility Company.

Tuberculosis Patients Lack Sufficient Beds

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Dr. Maurice C. Stayer, director of the State Bureau of Tuberculosis control, told the 97th annual Pennsylvania Medical Society convention in Pittsburgh that there was a shortage of 7,000 beds for tuberculosis patients.

The Carlisle physician said that more than a half million persons in the United States have active tuberculosis and at least 50,000 die from the disease each year.

However, he said there has been a marked decline in the death rate, but it still remains the principal cause of death among white females from 20 to 34 years old.

Among white males, Dr. Stayer said tuberculosis deaths ranks second only to accidents in the 20-39 year age group. He said among males of this age group, the disease outranks every other death cause, as it does among colored females from 10-29 years old.

Remove Stranded Groups By Plane In Tokyo Flood

TOKYO, Sept. 17.—(INS)—American and other Allied service personnel marooned aboard an express train for 14 hours by flood waters north of Tokyo were being flown out in U. S. Army planes today.

Eye witnesses said the "Yankee Limited" had been halted early Monday when the flood washed out a railroad bridge at Haranamak in northern Honshu Island.

The train was taking Allied personnel from the Army training center at Sendai south to Yokohama where the men had hoped to meet their wives arriving aboard a ship today.

Rails Washed Out
The rails along the route were washed out at six places.

A military government team was forced to abandon a rescue attempt because of flooded roads.

The passengers aboard the train had enough rations for only one meal. Their drinking water supply was insufficient.

The train backed up to Hachinohe after the flood waters subsided somewhat. An Army C-46 transport plane was able to land yesterday at an emergency air strip near Hachinohe and the air evacuation of the train passengers began.

Army planes also parachuted food, water and medical supplies to other Allied and Japanese trains marooned near Sendai by the floods. One of the marooned trains was filled with paratroopers en route to Sendai for training jumps.

Urges Immediate Raising Of River Boat From Bottom

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Pittsburgh's safety director, George E. A. Fairley, today asked the U. S. Coast Guard to urge the owners to raise the sunken hulk of the Island Queen from the Monongahela river at the Pittsburgh wharf as quickly as possible.

Fairley told Lieut. Cmdr. Merton Hatfield of the Coast Guard "it was a tragic thing to let it lie abandoned with bodies still in it."

The official toll was 19 persons, either known dead or missing. Only 14 bodies have been recovered.

Owners of the vessel, Coney Island, Inc., of Cincinnati, have made no announcement on salvage plans. Fairley deplored the possibility that insurance adjustment was delaying the work, adding:

"They should remove this tomb first and talk about adjustment later."

Meanwhile, Coast Guard headquarters in Washington said official results of the disaster inquiry will not be completed for several days.

Kiwanis Club At New Wilmington Starts Projects

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 17.—An explanation of the work being carried on in many large cities to erase race prejudice was given members of the Kiwanis club by John Carney of Youngstown at their meeting Monday night at the Methodist church.

It was announced that the first meeting of the Kiwanis Model Airplane club for boys will be held Sept. 29 at the high school. Art Minter, chairman of the project, stated that the school authorities have granted permission to use a room regularly for club sessions.

It was decided to erect a bicycle rack at the high school. It will be constructed so that students may lock the bikes to prevent their usage by other students.

A paper drive is planned for Oct. 6.

Guests included Rev. Robert P. MacDonald, pastor of the U. P. church, and David Reaney.

Warn Against Breakdown In U.S. Aviation

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 17.—(INS)—General of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower and Air Force Association President James H. Doolittle warned Tuesday against breakdown in our aviation industry.

The army chief of staff asserted that the industry must be assured a "continued healthy life because our international position in the immediate future may well be measured by its existence and productive capacity."

Doolittle was even more forceful in his address to the AFA at its Columbus, O., meeting. He declared:

On Last Legs
"The aviation industry is on its last legs. Many aircraft manufacturers will have to go out of existence if they aren't given more work to do."

Doolittle offered as a partial solution to the problem the formation of a citizens committee for research similar to the Manhattan Project which developed the atomic bomb. He also urged that the too-small army air forces be expanded with the resulting plane orders keeping the manufacturers from folding up.

Eisenhower said that the United States possessed a commanding lead in its ability to produce and perform. He added:

"For our own security, we either maintain that position or we replace into a potential target of aerial destruction . . . no real security resides in a second-best air force."

Sixteen-Day-Old Baby Loses Teeth

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Tiny, 16-day-old Dennis Kitchen of Pittsburgh has the distinction of being one of the smallest and youngest persons ever to visit the dentist.

Dennis' first, crying protest at the world revealed two lustrous, gleaming teeth in the front of his mouth.

Although they couldn't exactly be termed choppers a family doctor thought his vibrant, lusty howls might jar the already loose teeth out, and he might swallow them. He advised the parents to have them removed.

And yesterday, Dennis said a welcome goodbye to the unnecessary ivory in a fast, two-second operation.

Many Requests Are Made For Teachers

Placement Bureau At Westminster Makes Report On Demand For Teachers

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 17.—Even though all public schools and nearly all colleges are open for the fall term, there is an unprecedented number of requests on file for teachers in both fields, according to J. I. Reaney, director of the placement bureau at Westminster college.

Since last spring a total of 1244 public school vacancies were reported to the bureau. Several hundred of these were received during the past two weeks. Requests have ranged from four for principalships to 579 for elementary work.

Mr. Reaney reports that his office handled more than 1500 letters and telephone calls and sent out more than 1,000 pages of literature in an effort to place students. Forty-two beginning and 21 experienced teachers were placed.

A total of 294 college vacancies was reported. Four teachers who have done graduate work with the college were placed in college positions.

Mr. Reaney points out that the most attractive fields now for students who plan teaching careers are in art, home economics, physical education, science, industrial arts, foreign languages and library work.

The supply of science teachers has practically evaporated, according to Mr. Reaney. All of last year's science majors at Westminster preferred industrial work over teaching.

Chemists Plan New Process To Make Synthetic Gas, Oil

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—(INS)—The American Chemical Society, after hearing a startling report that the atoms of five more elements have been split, went ahead today to consider a cheap new process for making synthetic gasoline and oil.

Prof. Glenn T. Seaborg, famed University of California chemist, co-discoverer of plutonium, americium and curium, told the 112th national meeting of the society Monday that the latest atoms to be split are lead, bismuth, thallium, platinum and tantalum.

He advised the eleven thousand chemists gathered from all sections of the country that such common elements as lead and bismuth cannot at this time be used in the making of atomic bombs or as sources of atomic energy. He said:

"The fission of these common elements opens no possibility for the production of self-sustaining chain reaction. One reason for this stems from the fact that any secondary emitted particles which might be eligible for chain reaction have too small an energy to do so."

Soviet scientists, aided by Scandinavian physicists, recently were reported seeking a cheap atomic source from lead.

Prof. Seaborg was given an award in pure chemistry for his achievements in nuclear science.

Overruling Of Denham's Stand Will Be Asked

A.F.L. General Counsel To Ask N.L.R.B. To Overrule Decision Of Counsel For Board

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Joseph Padway, A.F.L. general counsel, said today he will ask the National Labor Relations Board to overrule NLRB Counsel Robert Denham's interpretation of anti-Communist provisions in the Taft-Hartley bill.

Padway told newsmen he was "convinced" the board had the power to reverse Denham, who has ruled that under the new law no AFL or CIO Union can use the NLRB until all local and national officials have signed affidavits stating that they are not Communist. The AFL attorney added that he hoped to put his views before the board in an informal conference today. Padway said that if the board claims to have no authority whatsoever to reverse Denham he will take the issue into the courts.

Universal Pottery And West Pittsburg Will Battle Thursday Evening

Columbus Club Puts South Hill Out Of Playoffs

Veteran Fred Shaffer Applies Whitewash Brush 3-0, Gives Three Hits

THURSDAY TILT AT FLAHERTY FIELD

Nearly 500 city baseball league fans, braved the chilly Tuesday evening atmosphere at Flaherty Field, to watch the Columbus Club erase the South Hill team from the playoffs for the city championship, with the veteran Fred Shaffer, hurling a brilliant three-hitter, in applying a coat of whitewash 3 to 0.

Thursday evening at 8 o'clock the Universal Pottery and West Pittsburg will try to answer the $64.00 question as to which team stays in, and which team goes out, in the playoffs. This will be the third meeting of the two teams in an effort to complete a playoff contest. Weather permitting a large crowd will no doubt see this crucial battle.

Both managers "Huck" Davies of the Pottery and John DeMonaco of the "Gas House Gang" are confident of winning. Interest in the game is intense.

Pitchers Battle
The fans who sat in on the game at Flaherty Field last night, some in topcoats, witnessed the best pitching battle of the season as Shaffer using a baffling curve and change of pace ball, allowed the South Hill club but three hits, none for extra-bases, and "Bo" Smiley, the fire-baller artist for the Joe Augustine crew hurled a four-hitter, gave up two extra-base blows and fanned eight batters. Shaffer whiffed seven.

Smiley was hit on his pitching hand while batting in the second inning and this seemed to bother him quite a bit the rest of the game, although he gamely stuck to his chores.

Rainey-Abe Orlando Stars
So effective did Shaffer hurl that South Hill had only one hit for the first five innings, while Smiley did not allow a Columbus hit until the fourth inning when Babe Orlando led off with a single and scored on a double by "Monk" Rainey.

Little Abe Orlando was the other Columbus hero in the fifth inning. Shaffer led off the inning by walking and scored when Orlando banged a long triple to deep right field, then scored himself when Mingione laid down a sacrifice bunt.

Smiley delighted the fans in the first inning with a blinding fast ball that sent Albert Orlando, Jimmy Tropea and Henry Marshall down swinging. South Hill had a man on third in the first inning, but could not tally.

Columbus Officials Elated
Nick Adamo, president of the Columbus Club, Manager Mike Orlando and his assistants were elated by the win that puts them in the semifinals along with the Lawrence Indians, and the winner of the West Pittsburg-Universals game.

Columbus Club deserved the victory, playing a fine brand of baseball and showing a world of hustle. Ed. Gomet was a workhorse back of the plate for the victors. Columbus (Continued on Next Page)

Veteran Array To Take Field For Penn State

Bob Ross Of Ellwood May Start At Guard Against Washington State Saturday

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 17.—Penn State's Bob Higgins, still undecided on his starting lineup for the season's opener against Washington State, indicated today that there would be few newcomers on the field at Hershey Saturday night.

His ends are almost certain to be hold-overs, and most likely will be Co-Captain John Potokian, of Brownsville, and Ed Czeka, of Mt. Pleasant, or Sam Tamburo, of New Kensington. Co-Captain John Nolan, of Glens Falls, N. Y., will be at right tackle, with the other starter yet to be chosen. Negley Norton, of Altoona, is the most likely choice.

Steve Suhey, of Cazenovia, N. Y., already has one guard berth clinched. The other starter will be Bob Ross, of Ellwood City, or Joe Drazenovich, of Brownsville. John Wojcik, of Isabella, or Charles (Chuck) Beatty, of Weisell, will get the nod at center.

The opening backfield probably will find Charles (Chuck) Drazenovich, of Brownsville, or Bill LaFluer, of Toledo, O., in the blocking back spot, with Joe Colone, of Berwick, fullback. Larry Joe, of Derry Twp., fullback, and Wally Triplett, of Philadelphia, or Larry Cooney, of Pittsburgh, wingback.

Football Tickets Are All Sold Out

J. H. Earl McKenzie, ticket manager at New Castle High announced today that all reserved seat tickets for the New Castle-Youngstown East grid game Friday night at the stadium, have been sold out.

Several hundred were placed on sale this morning at the Sporting Goods store and quickly exhausted. There will be however, about 1,000 general admission tickets on sale at the south gate at 6:45 the night of the game, and there will be standing room for another 1,000 or so, McKenzie stated.

All indications point to upwards of 13,000 for the third game here this week.

Penn State's new alumni secretary, Ridge Riley, formerly was director of sports publicity at his alma mater.

Carry On At Bessemer High School

These seven lettermen form the nucleus of coach Bill Ciccone's Bessemer high grid team this year, with the circles denoting gaps left by graduation to 1946 stars.

The Cemeniers opened their season with a fine showing against George Junior Republic, 18-0 and will return to action Friday night at Evans City.

Crippled Locals Await East High

Four New Castle High Regulars On Sidelines With Injuries At Present

New Castle high's "Big Red Hurricane" grid machine is pretty well crippled up for the battle this Friday night with the powerful Youngstown East team at the stadium. Four of the regulars are reported nursing injuries.

The two doubtful starting positions on the line are at left tackle and left end, Ray Peluso, the regular left tackle, broke a bone in his leg in the Butler game, and it will either be Tom Mangino or big Lou Zeigler filling in at this spot.

Beymon may get the call over Bob Session this week, the tall colored boy reporting an injured knee.

Gribble Has Sore Leg
The backfield is rather well used up since the Butler game—Gene Gribble is limping on a sore leg, and Clause and Keyes have bad shoulders.

East is coming here this year with another powerhouse club, and hope to repeat the victory attained here last year. New Castle with two wins to date will fight hard to keep the record clean.

The coaches are working feverishly to get the injured men in shape for the battle, but it does not look too promising at the moment. It is going to take everything New Castle has to defeat this 1947 Youngstown East high edition.

While this is a non-conference game for the locals, nonetheless they would like very much to continue in the undefeated category.

OPERATIONS of a fistic enterprise is no play. Headaches befall a matchmaker and last minute fall-outs cause him gray hairs and just because one sees a "big house", he shouldn't obtain the idea that the promoter is enriching himself. Approximately 25 cents of every dollar that goes in the gate is paid out for taxes (20 percent to the federal government, and five percent to the state).

Jack Biddle emerged from his bout with Russell Baxter with a fracture of his right hand. "I broke my hand in the second round" he said, after which he requested Tommy Leach, matchmaker of the Jefferson A. C., to rematch him with Baxter. "I feel that I can do better next time" he stated.

Skeet and trapshoot will be held at 7:30 p. m. tonight at the Lawrence County Sportsman's farm. Members are requested to assist in the erection of a house at the farm, Saturday. Desired information may be obtained from W. Henry Rogers at 85-J.

Shenango Valley Beagle club will start their trials Sunday at their Volant course, September 20. . . . Reports say that Art Baker of Pittsburgh, who battles rugged Rizeri Ronzi of Youngstown here, September 29, is a good heavyweight. . . . Bill Jolly was an interested spectator at the Arena, Monday night. Battling Terry, erstwhile lightweight also enjoyed the main bout and "Shorty" Fessler, an attaché of the Jimmy Dunn stable in Cleveland also glimpsed the fighters. . . . Another ex-boxer, Mickie Solomon, circulated around the hall. The ring-side seats were occupied by prominent men who enjoy watching the fisticuffs.

Butler Eagle's account of the Tornado's loss to New Castle Friday night carried an interesting paragraph in which it was stated that Coach "Whitey" Siljander held back on his passing attack due to the number of scouts in the stands. The reason, the story went on, was that the Butler mentor was saving his "Secret Weapon" for some unsuspecting foe later in the season when an aerial might mean a TD. It is granted that alibis burst forth like mushrooms after a rain following football frays but why the boys in gold would be holding back anything against the Hurricane is incomprehensible. With 30 back years since they have humbled the Red and Black, it is an established fact that no team on the Butler schedule carries the importance of the locals. If "Whitey" had a passing attack he would have loosed it at Taggart stadium, for even to register a score in the 39-0 rout would have been a feat for the invaders.

Church Golfers Banquet Tuesday, Honor Champions

Forty-Eight Present At Chicken Dinner, Pay Tribute To St. Paul's

CHARLES WARD IS ELECTED PRESIDENT

New Castle Church Golf league season of 1947 came to an official close last night as 48 members sat down to a chicken dinner at the Harlansburg inn and paid tribute during the course of the evening to the championship St. Paul's team captained by Al Figuly.

The banquet got under way at 6:30 o'clock with Rev. O. J. Warnath, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran church, offering the blessing. Following the dinner, President Karl Rohrer spoke very briefly and thanked the men for their turnout and then called on Rev. Warnath for a short talk.

Figuly-Palmer Speak
Captain Al Figuly of the championship team was also called on and gave a fine talk, thanking the league for the cooperation and sportsmanship shown, he also paid the St. Mary's team, captained by Fred Palmer, the defending champs, a high tribute as good sports. Palmer responded by congratulating the newly crowned champs.

Gifts were awarded to the members of the championship team, each man receiving a Rev. O. J. Warnath and a chain and a knife set from the league.

Ward Elected President
The annual election of officers was held as the final part of the program and resulted in the elevation of Vice President Charles Ward to the president's chair for 1948. Lou Lautenslager was elevated to vice president from his secretary post, and Al Figuly was made the 1948 secretary, with Blair Alverson elected as league treasurer, succeeding Newell Kelly.

The same handicap committee as served this year was re-named for 1948. Final speaker on the program was W. L. Clark, a veteran of the first church golf league organized some 15 years ago, the first of its kind in the United States.

The banquet was one of the finest ever held by the league, the men enjoying themselves to the last minute. Already the players are looking ahead to the 1948 season at the beautiful Castle Hills course.

Ring Solons Hold Up Hubert's Purse

Yarosz' Opponent Accused Of Not Trying And Referee Stops Fight

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Tommy Yarosz, Monaca, Pa., middleweight contender, today had his 48th straight victory in the books, but he wasn't bragging about it.

He was awarded a victory over Tee Hubert of Washington, D. C., in Zivic Arena in suburban Millvale last night when the latter was disqualified midway of the fifth round for not trying.

Pennsylvania Boxing Commissioner John Montgomery immediately ordered Hubert's purse held up, and called a hearing in the case for today.

Irish Jimmy Sanders, 147, Warren, O., won a unanimous decision from Milton Ashford, Braddock, Pa., in the six-round semi-final. Sanders had Ashford on the verge of a knockout three times in the first four rounds, but the rugged youth weathered the storm.

FAIR or FOUL

BY LAWTON CARVER
Sports Editor, International News Service

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Even if the New York Yankees win the world series from the Brooklyn Dodgers (or St. Louis Cardinals) the celebration may be more somber than on the field for Larry MacPhail.

The boss of the Yankees has loud-mouthed himself back into official and perhaps unpleasant contact with Baseball Commissioner Happy Chandler, who has been known to become downright unhappy when sufficiently provoked.

Wants the Know
Chandler is back in his Cincinnati offices after a trip to the coast and wants to know more about that MacPhail interview of last Tuesday with New York newsmen in which MacPhail put the blast on brother Branch Rickey.

MacPhail's alleged words had no sooner found their way into print than he issued a statement repudiating everything. He said he had not held a news conference, and added that no one was authorized to quote him.

Don't laugh. That's what Larry said. He thinks he's Truman or somebody.

However, he hasn't convinced Chandler, who has asked newspaper men who wrote the interview to send copies of same to Cincinnati or, better still, come down to baseball headquarters and repeat what they were told.

Out of Town
The reporters quoted MacPhail as saying it was 100 to 1 Leo Durocher would not be back in Brooklyn as manager next season, that he would not have been barred if Rickey had sought to prevent it.

Some of the stuff they attributed to MacPhail was a little stronger than that and there was more of it. The news writers have not backed down.

Chandler reportedly has got his neck bowed against MacPhail by this time due to the latter's periodic popping off, sometimes in seeming violation of the gag applied by Chandler against discussing the banishment of Durocher.

Started in Havana
All the trouble goes back to that day in Havana last spring when Durocher, MacPhail and others generated a hubbub that led to a hearing in which MacPhail was cleared of playing host to gamblers at an exhibition ball game.

One thing led to several more, and finally Leo, a good match for MacPhail or anybody else in the holier department with no holds barred, was suspended for the season by Chandler. Coach Charlie Dressen of the Yankees was set down for a month at the same time.

The result of all this and the gag rule seems to be a smouldering peeve inside MacPhail. Perhaps it's only dyspepsia.

Anyhow, he opens his mouth every so often and the next thing you know Happy Chandler is unhappy.

Republican Party Is Sole Bulwark

Governor Duff Says Party Only Bulwark Against Imminent Economic Reversal

HARRISBURG, Sept. 17.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today said the Republican party was America's sole bulwark against an imminent economic reversal.

How the United States weathered domestic and international crises confronting it depended largely on "the way the Republican party met challenges during the 1948 presidential election, the governor told a conference of Republican women at Harrisburg.

He warned the party against becoming over confident of its abilities as a result of the election of Speaker of the House Franklin H. Lichtenwaller to congress in the eight district special balloting last week.

"We have put too much emphasis on the significance of the victory, Duff said.

Calm Preceding Upheaval
"We are assuming the period is a period of business and events as usual," he asserted, "whereas it was more like calm preceding an economic upheaval."

"The situation in which we are living now is a 'fool's paradise,'" he said. "We are assuming the ease of living is usual and is going to continue. If precedent follows here is a situation that could develop into a greater catastrophe than in 1929."

Duff scored the federal government for failing to keep Americans fully informed of the seriousness of the food and other situations.

Lichtenwaller earlier told GOP women his victory was an endorsement of the $144,000,000 special tax program and Republican policies enunciated by the general assembly during the 1947 session.

A new method of revealing the age of prehistoric bones by chemical analysis has been perfected, anthropologists say.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 17.—Patricia White is one doll who isn't bothered about the fashion controversy over the length of women's skirts.

As far as Miss White and clothes are concerned, it's off again, on again, gone again.

America's movie millions have yet to see the white gowns because her first picture hasn't been released yet. But all the characters who have worked with her are waiting for the nationwide gasp.

One hard-bitten electrician described Patricia as "that nice girl who has never had anything on anybody—not even herself."

Demands More Clothes
Her current picture at Columbia Studios, "Rose of Santa Rosa," features several facets of interest, including the Hoosier Hot Shots and Pat's unbelievable underpinnings.

In her screen debut, "When A Girl's Beautiful," a wardrobe woman hovered perpetually at Pat's side, cloak in hand. Miss White rebelled and demanded the studio put some clothes on her terrific torso.

The studio Sultans did. In "Rose of Santa Rosa," she was equipped with enough petticoats to stock Macy's and half of Gimbels for a year.

Got Plenty Hot
The sun suddenly booted the mercury up around 101 degrees. It was 20 degrees hotter on the sound stage. Patricia's makeup was being repaired constantly from the ravages of rivulets running down her face. And the petticoats ceased to be fun.

Director Ray Nazarro finally took pity on the gal. He reminded her she had a musical sequence to perform in the picture. She slyly produced a hunk of garment about the size of a midget's handkerchief.

Events Are Moving Rapidly In Europe Committee Is Told

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(INS)—A high ranking state department official told a joint congressional committee Tuesday following a survey of European conditions that "events are moving quite rapidly and the next three or four months will be critical."

The House-Senate air policy committee headed by Sen. Brewster (R) Me., received a picture of European conditions from George Kennan, top aide to Secretary of State Marshall, who was cloaked with the group for more than two hours.

Brewster said Kennan was chairman of the state department's air planning board. He recently returned from Europe where he went at Marshall's request to discuss the economic program now being worked out in Paris by 16 nations.

Asked by newsmen what Kennan meant by his statement, Brewster replied: "As you know, conditions in Europe are quite unsettled. There is a certain sense of urgency."

ENCOURAGE CHECK ON BABY'S HEALTH

Mothers are encouraged to check their babies on the signs of health they show, for a healthy baby can more easily ward off chance attacks of disease.

The healthy baby grows and develops normally, and is growing faster in infancy than he will be at any other period of his life.

One of the signs of a healthy baby is a clear skin, firm to the touch, not flabby. Firm flesh returns to its normal position and color quickly after a finger has been pressed against it. Unhealthy flesh, flesh that is the result of too much sugar in the diet and lack of exercise, holds the finger impression and color return slowly to the flesh.

A healthy baby should not be overly fat nor should he be thin. A weight and length chart is helpful but is not always the final word. Babies may vary in length and weight and still be normal and healthy.

To determine whether the baby is growing as he should,

it is suggested that mothers keep a record of his weight each week and weigh the child at the same time of day each week. By comparison of these weights, a mother can see whether her baby is on a steady gain, which is the way he should grow.

Another sign of a healthy baby is that he cries little, eats and sleeps well. A healthy baby will have bright eyes and his hair will have a natural luster. He will be a happy baby if he is healthy and if he gets the attention and cuddling he needs.
